

Toro.Hack Password Cracking Competition

March 4th, 2017

10:00AM – 3:00PM

California State University, Dominguez Hills

Ballroom C

All Levels from novice to expert are encouraged to participate.

Password cracking techniques are constantly evolving and new methods are necessary to push the boundaries of security. Teams will compete to see who can crack the most passwords in 5 hours. There will be a workshop to introduce the topic before the contest begins. The 1 hour workshop provides participants with all the knowledge required to be competitive during the event. Contestants will need to bring their own computer.
